cool hunting green

A PARENTS GUIDE TO YOUNG CHILDREN'S BEHAVIOUR

Dr. Louise Porter

Designers all over the globe are hailing 'green' as the new 'black' and taking up the call to reduce, reuse and repurpose existing resources in their products. The most ingenious designers know it can be done without sacrificing creativity, style or functionality.

Some of the designs in Cool Hunting Green meet our environmental challenges head-on and actively contribute to a greener world; others aim to tread lightly and minimise their impact; and some simply want to make a statement, possibly inspiring others to action.

Cool Hunting Green is a fascinating collection of quirky, bold and unique products guaranteed to get you thinking, talking and maybe even acting in a more environmentally sensitive manner... without losing your cool!

"This book shows that green is not all about mung beans and hemp scandals." Tanya Ha – environmental campaigner and author
